NATIVE CITY AND ARSENAL CAPTURED

No Resistance Offered By the Authorities.

Foreign Volunteers Take Every Precaution to Protect Concessions.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—The arsenal and the native city of Shanghai were take over by the revolutionists late this afternoon. No resistance was offered by the authorities or such of the public as remains loyal.

It is reported that Wu Sung, at the mouth of the Wu Sung river and 10 miles north of Shanghai, and the up-river forts, will fall tonight. It is confidently believed that Nakding and Ching-Kiang will be captured by the rebels tomorrow.

Some of the foreign warships landed marines in this city before the rebels took possession. Foreign volunteers were called out and have taken every precaution to protect the concessions.

It is reported that the rebels at Kiau-Kiang have seized British tugboat Sampson.

It became evident early in the afternoon that the revolutionists proposed to assume control of affairs here within a short time, though it was not thought that they would occupy the arsenal before night. As the day progressed the revolutionary flag was hoisted over all the buildings in the vicinity of the arsenal and thousands wearing on their arms the white band insignia of the Constitutionalists, gathered in streets.

The police and native soldiers made no attempt to interfere and on the contrary fraternized with the insurgents. The Taotai, realizing the inevitable caused notices to be posted stating that the native city might be taken over by the revolutionists tonight, and expressing the hope that the public would not be thrown into a panic and that the shops selling food should not be closed except at the usual hour.

At 5:30 o'clock all telephone and telegraph communications with the arsenal was cut off. The rebel throng grew to greater proportions and in the natural excitement a number of shots were fired by the government forces in the direction of the mob, but these were without effect and it was plain that the Chinese soldiers, the police and the native volunteers were all in sympathy with the revolutionists. At this point the Taotai fled and the arsenal and the native city quietly capitulated.

The rebel leaders have telegraphed General Li Huan Heng, the head of the rebel movement, advising him to cease hostilities pending developments at Pekin. Their message is being forwarded to General Li from Wu Hu by a special dispatch boat.

Complaints reached this city today that the rebels holding the forts below Kiu Kiang have been firing indiscriminately at steamers passing that city in the night time.

The latest advices from Hankow give assurance that the foreign concessions are safe and have not been seriously disturbed by the rioting in the native city.

The situation continues quiet in Yang Chow, Ching Kiang, Su Chow, and Wu Sung and the other down-river points on this side of Nanking.

SCENE OF EARLY REBELLION.

Yuan Nan, on the Southwestern Frontier, Declares Its Independence.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—The province of Yuan Nan, on the southwestern frontier of China, has declared its independence, according to reports received here today.

The province of Yuan Nan, which fronts on Thibet and Burma, known as the Switzerland of China, has an area of nearly 150,000 square miles, about three times that of New England. Its population is estimated at 12,000,000. The province is rich in mineral deposits and has boundless stores of anthracite coal. Agriculture and stock raising are extensively carried on, and some of the best grades of tea are produced there. Yuan Nan was the principal scene of the great Mohammedan rebellion, which lasted for 16 years and was suppressed in 1872.

IN SYMPATHY WITH REBELS.

Constabulary of Chapei, A Suburb of Shanghai, Mutinies.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A news despatch from Shanghai says that the native constabulary of Chapei, a suburb of Shanghai which forms part of the Chinese quarter, mutinied today and burned the police station and the residence of the chief of police. Foreign volunteers were mobilized to maintain order.

For several days the natives at Chapei have been demonstrating noisily, in sympathy with the revolutionists. After burning the police station and the chief's residence, the constabulary formally declared their adhesion to the rebel cause and took over control of the native quarter, in the name of the revolutionists. The Chapei district is on the border of the European settlement in Shanghai.

RECOGNIZES THE RIGHT OF FRANCE.

Germany Concedes a Protectorate in Morocco.

Both Nations to Obtain Adhesion of Other Powers.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—The contents of the Franco-German accord, officially given out today, show that Germany recognizes the right of France to establish a protectorate in Morocco, while both nations engage to obtain the adhesion to this accord of the other signatories to the Algeciras agreement.

France, as compensation for German recognition of her protectorate in Morocco cedes to Germany about 250,000 square kilometres in northern French Congo, touching the German Kamerons. The territory ceded is inhabited by about 1,000,000 negroes and has a commerce valued at $2,400,000 annually. The new German frontier starts at Monde bay and extends to the Sanga river, thence to Kandeko, thence through the Congo, finally attaining Lake Tchad by way of the Ubainga and Logone rivers.

France retains the right to run railroad lines across German territory so as to connect the different parts of French Central Africa. The accord does not affect Togoland, but Germany cedes her "ducks bill," extending from the Chari river to the Logone river.

France and Germany agree to submit to The Hague tribunal all difficulties arising from the operation of the accord.

In reference to Morocco France agrees to safeguard the economic equality and commercial liberty for which provision is made in existing treaties. The only reference to commercial rights in the ceded territory is the mutual agreement to take over the rights and obligations in connection with the companies holding concessions there.

ON EVE OF MOROCCAN DEBATE.

Chancellor's and Secretary's Positions Weakened by Dissensions.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—Revelations of dissensions in the government, on the eve of the Moroccan debate in the Reichstag have greatly weakened the positions of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and the foreign secretary, Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter.

The secretary of state for the colonies, Dr. Lindequist, today renewed his request that his resignation, tendered last summer, be accepted. Later in the day the chancellor requested an audience with the emperor, to whom, according to an inspired statement, he recommended the immediate acceptance of Dr. Lindequist's resignation. The colonial secretary asked during the summer that he be permitted to retire because of his dissatisfaction over the compensation which Germany was to receive for certain concessions to France in Morocco. The emperor refused to release him because the France-German negotiations were pending. Last Saturday Dr. Lindequist denied that he intended to withdraw from the cabinet.

The councillor of the colonial office, Herr Von Danckelmann, also resigned today and it is believed the explanation in his case will also be found in dissatisfaction over the German compensation.

NOTED EDUCATORS SPEAK.

Rhode Island Institute of Instruction Opens in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 3.—Addresses by many noted educators from different sections of the country featured the annual session of the Rhode Island Institute of Instruction, which was opened in this city today. The delegates met in general convention in the forenoon and in the afternoon the various sections of the organization held separate meetings.

President W. H. Holmes, superintendent of schools of Westerly, opened the convention and addresses of welcome were delivered by Lieutenant Governor Zenas W. Bliss and Mayor Henry Fletcher. The principal speakers at the meeting were President W. H. P. Faunce of Brown University, President L. D. Harvey of Stout Institute, Menomines, Wis., and Dr. H. H. Goddard of Vineland, N. J.

PLANS ACCEPTED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

National Assembly Completes Draft for Constitution.

Throne Receives Word from Yuan Shi Kai Refusing to Accept Premiership.

PEKIN, Nov. 3.—The National Assembly today completed a draft of the basis upon which it proposes to construct the new constitution of China. It was submitted to the throne and accepted immediately. The tentative plan provides for the perpetuity of the Manchu dynasty, but the power of the emperor is closely restricted by the constitution, which is to be written by the assembly and subject to amendment by parliament. The imperial princes are made ineligible to the offices of premier, members of the cabinet, and administrators of the provinces. The draft follows:

1—The emperor shall reign forever.

2—A person of the Ta Ching dynasty (the great pure dynasty, the name being the name adopted by the ruling family) shall be emperor inviolable.

3—The power of the emperor shall be limited by the constitution.

5—The constitution shall be drawn up and adopted by the national as-

CHAMP CLARK FOR ANNEXATION.

Speaker Declares Nine Tenths of American People Want Canada.

FREEMONT, Neb., Nov. 2.—"Nine tenths of the people of this country favor the annexation of Canada," declared Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives, here today, "and I don't care who hears me say it."

The Speaker's remarks concerning annexation of Canada caused considerable comment. "I am willing," he said, "to make this proposition: You let me run for President on a platform calling for annexation of Canada in so far as this country can accomplish that end, and let President Taft run against me, opposing annexation, and I would carry every state in the nation."

MADERO PRESIDENT OF MEXICO.

Vote in the Chamber of Deputies Announced as 153 to 19.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Nov. 2.—By a vote of 153 to 19 the Chamber of Deputies today decided Francisco I. Madero elected president of Mexico. The vote approving the election of Jose Pino Suarez as vice president was 113 to 24.

The minority vote in both cases was based upon the claims that the election be declared null on account of alleged irregularities. Next Monday was definitely agreed upon as the date for the inauguration.

DECEMBER 1 TIME LIMIT.

Result of Election on Repeal of Prohibition Not Announced.

AUGUSTA, Maine, Nov. 2.—The question whether the proclamation by Governor Plaisted, making known the result of the September election on the repeal of the prohibition clause of the state constitution, may be issued before December 1, the legal time limit for such action, could not be determined from information obtainable at the state house today. The question whether the returns from four towns shall stand as reported, or whether they shall be corrected in accordance with evidence with figures erroneous presented to the governor and council at a sitting held September 28 and October 9, is still under consideration. No decision was announced at the meeting of the governor and council October 20, and no one officially connected would profess ability today to state whether action would be taken at the next meeting of the council November 16. The only definite fact available today was that the governor, under the law, must issue a proclamation of the result not later than December 1.

As the matter stands, the official returns canvassed by the governor and council give a majority of 26 votes for the repeal of the prohibitory amendment. If the returns alleged to be erroneous from four towns are accepted as corrected, a majority of 753 against repeal would result.

The possibility that the courts may be asked to pass upon the questioned returns has been suggested. Such a step would introduce a third alternative, inasmuch as the courts, it is said, could declare the disputed figures void and order them stricken from the tables. Such a step would bring about a majority of 366 against repeal.

FOR GOVERNMENT'S WELFARE.

Arsenals May Be Installed With Taylors System of Management.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Taylors system of scientific management probably will be installed in the government arsenals. Secretary of War Stimson, today expressed the view that the system will work to the welfare of the government and the workmen. He based his opinion on a report of Chief of Ordnance Crozier on the War Department experiments with the system.

A HOPEFUL MESSAGE TO SCALP SUFFERERS AND MEN WHOSE HAIR IS THINNING.

Dandruff now—bald later. The same is true of scalp diseases. In fact baldness is a scalp disease. The trouble with the greasy salves and lotions, the so-called dandruff and scalp cures you have tried so far is that they don't do anything but temporarily relieve the itching and cake the dandruff so it doesn't fall until it's dried out again. Nothing can cure—really cure such troubles but a real scalp medicine that will kill the germs causing dandruff and scalp disease.

Learning from leading fellow druggists throughout America that they had found a whirlwind cure for dandruff, eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp the John M. Callahan Drug Store on proving to the laboratories compounding the treatment that it is the most prominent drug store in this city secured the agency for the remedy. This remedy is ZEMO, the clean, liquid preparation that kills the germ of disease and ZEMO SOAP to wash the scalp or skin clear and clean of the dandruff or scale and by its antiseptic qualities soothe and heal.

Sold and guaranteed by druggists everywhere and in Newport by John M. Callahan.

Anty Drudge Tells How to Do "Dry Cleaning" at Home.

His Wife—"Come out from under there, George! Your clothes will be all covered with grease again and you know it won't come off. We'll walk home."

Anty Drudge—"Let him fix it, Dearie; and don't fear the grease. Fels-Naptha will take out all the grease spots and stains. It's as good for 'dry cleaning' garments as it is for washing clothes."

Where there's a will there's a way.

But, usually, only one way.

Fels-Naptha is the way through which you can free yourself from the drudgery of the old-fashioned washday—if you will.

What is that drudgery?

You know.

Boiling clothes, making fires, hard rubbing.

Fels-Naptha lops it all off, takes it out of your washday program.

Fels-Naptha itself does all the work that you yourself would have to do in the roundabout way, summer or winter.

And it does it in cool or lukewarm water, without hot fire, without nauseous suds or steam in the house, without hard rubbing.

Have you the will to cut loose from the old ways—to free yourself from this drudgery?

Follow the easy directions on the back of the red and green wrapper.

NAVY YARD ABANDONMENT.

Secretary Meyer Awaits General Board's Report on Changes Before Making Recommendations.

[Washington despatch to New York Tribune.]

Secretary Meyer hopes to receive from the General Board of the navy an important report in time for use in connection with his annual report on navy yard policy. This has to do with the proposed abandonment of certain navy yards on the Atlantic coast and has no connection with the management of navy yards, which is a subject under special consideration in the Navy Department.

Mr. Meyer has called for the views of the General Board in order to have a comprehensive plan of navy yard system at his disposal for the guidance of Congress. While he has made certain recommendations to Congress on this subject, he does not regard these communications as final. The General Board has gone into the subject with the greatest care and has anticipated the changes likely to occur in the navy for many years to come.

The completion of the Panama canal will have its effect on the location of the fleet, which is destined ultimately, in the judgment of naval officers, to spend most of its time throughout the year in the Pacific, returning through the canal to the Atlantic only at rare intervals or when some emergency requires its transfer. Then, too, the international situation in Asia will have its influence on navy yard maintenance. The fact that the fleet is destined to spend most of its time in the Pacific is assumed as sufficient reason for a recommendation on the part of the General Board for the development of Navy yard facilities on the west coast, with stations of special dimensions at Hawaii and Guam. A new dock yard in San Francisco bay may be recommended, and some naval officers believe that the navy yard at Mare Island should be abandoned.

When it comes to deciding what shall be maintained on the Atlantic coast in the way of navy yards, a preference is expressed for New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk, if there are to be more than two, in which latter New York and Norfolk would be the logical selection. It is expected that the General Board will renew its recommendations in favor of the establishment of a dock yard and naval base at Guantanamo. Secretary Meyer is awaiting the report of the board before coming to any final conclusion.

METHODIST BISHOPS MEET.

Twenty-five Methodist Episcopal bishops from five continents are in Oklahoma City for the semi-annual meeting of bishops. The conference will continue over Sunday. The first session was marked by denunciation by Bishop Hartsell of Liberia of the famous "grandfather clause" in the Oklahoma constitution, which makes it almost impossible for a negro to vote. Bishop Hartsell reported great progress in the work in Liberia.

NEW YORK INCREASES ITS BUDGET.

New York city will increase its expenditures by more than $15,000,000 during the ensuing year. The full board of estimate and apportionment, after a late session, has announced that it has decided upon $189,210,960 as the budget for the city for 1912, an increase of $15,243,176 over last year. It was estimated that the tax rate would be advanced to $1.88 per thousand, as against $1.73 this year. The increase in the city's expenses is due in a great part to the fact that the salaries of the women teachers in the city schools are to be equalized during the coming year with the salaries of the men teachers.

HENDERSON WINS THE CUP.

Six members of the Providence Revolver Club were present at the weekly match Thursday evening and shot under difficulties owing to a strong, puffy wind, though the scores were fair. Henderson landed in first place, closely followed by Easton, the others being well bunched. This is the third win in succession for Henderson, and he takes the cup offered by the club. Brooks won the bull's-eye match. The scores:

Henderson	230	224	32	486
Easton	224	230	28	482
Spooner	222	230	22	472
Birsel	223	227	22	472

Dr. Pearsons had used tobacco 70 years, but four weeks ago he "swore off" chewing and smoking, and says the raisins and peppermint candy have proved ample substitutes.

The prizes, which are of $375 each, are awarded annually to four students in the school who have done the most brilliant work during the year.

A few years afterward he entered the Protestant Episcopal ministry. From 1872 to 1883 he was master of St. Mark's School, Southboro, and then became pastor of St. John's Church, Hingham. He is now pastor emeritus of St. John's Church.

....Colonel W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," has retired from public life. His show is packed off to winter quarters and his Indians will return to their tepees in what is left of the Red Man's land. "Buffalo Bill" intends to spend his remaining years in the Wyoming Big Horn, where he helped make American history. So far as public exhibitions are concerned he has shot the last ashes from the last cigar and chased the last Indian. From a career which began as a pony express rider and included many Indian battles and 28 years as a showman, Colonel Cody became known as one of the most picturesque figures in American life. The sobriquet "Buffalo Bill" was earned in the early sixties, when he contracted to furnish buffalo meat to the laborers constructing the Kansas Pacific railroad. In less than 18 months he killed 4,280 bison.

PROPHECIES.

The seed unsown has prophecies of root,
And branch and fragrant blooms on sturdy trees,
The home of happy birds and luscious fruit
More prized than apples of Hesperides.

The lark unhatched has prophecies of wings
To soar the realms where winged things belong,
To greet the rising sun with joy, and thrill
The ambient air with ecstasies of song.

The child unborn has prophecies of feet
To run, and hands to sceptres wield o'er vast Dominions strong and minds that run through all
The present and the boundless eons past.

Man's natural body sown has prophecies
Celestial of bodies that outscar
The larks, of minds that scan the infinite,
Of love that joys the loving God to adore.

The lark fulfills its prophecies and dies.
But man, divine, with two-fold life to live,
Makes prophecies fulfilled on earth mere hints
Of what an immortality can give.

TEN PAGES.

"THE PROTECTOR OF ISLAM."

The Kaiser has been at it again. He has been talking, with the usual results. Two or three years ago his remarks came so near to embroiling Europe in war that the chancellor insisted that the imperial speeches should be submitted to him before they were delivered to the public and a serious crisis in the Reichstag was averted only by the assurance that the Kaiser had promised to do this.

He seems to have forgotten about the promise, for he has recently been talking with a missionary bishop about the menace which the advance of Islam is to the German colonies in Africa. Now it happens that William has been coddling Turkey, or more particularly the deposed Sultan, Abdul Hamid, to an extent which caused him to be known throughout the Levant as the Protector of Islam. He protected Islam when the Armenians were being massacred and a firm attitude by united Europe would have forced Abdul Hamid to stop the slaughter. A united Europe could not be obtained, because Germany was opposed to applying any pressure on the Sultan regarding his internal affairs. Perhaps it seemed to the Kaiser that it was slightly inconsistent for the monarch who ruled over Poles to interfere with the Turkish treatment of the Armenians.

Business between Germany and Turkey thrived. Germans obtained concession from the Porte when capitalists of other nations could not. The Kaiser made the Sultan a present of a battery of field artillery and visited him, and Germans sold no end of goods in Turkey. Now these remarks about the danger caused by the spread of Islam in Africa are calculated to turn the Turks against Germany, and deprive the Kaiser of his title of Protector of Islam and his manufacturing subjects of sundry orders for goods. Besides, it looks as if the Kaiser were siding with Italy against Turkey in the present war, and the sympathies of Germany, on account of the growth of business with Turkey, have been mainly with the Turks. So there is a good deal of a mess as the result of the Kaiser's imprudent speech.

UTILIZING THE SCHOOLHOUSES.

It is estimated that the public school property in this country represents a valuation of a billion dollars, and yet is used for school purposes alone less than 40 per cent of the entire time it might be employed to advantage, thus indicating a loss of activity equivalent to many millions of dollars every year. This is an immense amount of money to be practically wasted, for that is what idleness in connection with schoolhouses means. If these were manufacturing plants which were in use such a comparatively small part of the possible time it would be counted an unnecessary and reprehensible waste, and the same view would be taken if they were private property for rental purposes. Why, then, should it not be so regarded in the case of school buildings? They are property and represent the money of the people which has been used in their construction, and the people are entitled to all the income in usefulness which they can be made to render.

There could be no stronger argument than this in favor of greater use of schoolhouses for the entertainment, instruction and improvement of the people. These buildings belong to them, as they constitute the city or state which has erected them, and they are clearly entitled to all the benefit which they can be made to furnish to their owners. It is time this view of the matter was more widely assumed by those in charge of school property, and while it is the function of these representatives of the city or state to do all in their power to protect the buildings from deterioration it is not wise to keep them closed for fear they will be damaged by the people, any more than it would be proper to shut them entirely for fear the children who attend school will damage them. One difficulty is that there has been an idea that the schoolhouses were for the children alone, and for them only during school hours, instead of the thought that they are for the people, to be used in any legitimate way for their benefit. It seems hard to change this belief and inculcate the thought that they should be used not only by and for the children but by and for all the people.

It is true that the new idea in this respect is gaining ground, rapidly in many places and slowly in many more, and these buildings which are idle so many hours in the day and so many days in the year when they are utilized only for school purposes are being opened for the general use of the people of the community. Yet there is opportunity for much improvement in this connection. The fact must, of course, be taken into consideration that it will cost something to keep the schoolhouses open practically all the time and to provide entertainment, instruction and improvement for the people within them. That is true, however, of the schools themselves, and yet it would be considered false economy to close these entirely. It is equally poor economy to lock them up after school hours and keep them shut all day twice a week and all summer.

The day is undoubtedly coming when the schoolhouses all over the land will not be closed except through the hours of the night, but will be used as naturally after the schools are over by the people of the community for social and educational purposes as during school hours for the benefit of the children. There will be in those days as there are now to a small extent lectures, entertainments, moving picture shows, social gatherings and many other things which will make the schoolhouses the social centres of the communities and the scene of constant activity. Thus the people will have the full benefit of the money they have spent in the building of these structures, devoted not, as in the past, solely to the education of the youth; but to the instruction of the whole people and to their entertainment and social betterment as well. That will be sound economical policy and the returns which the city will receive from the investment of the money used to make schoolhouses social centres will seem almost marvelous.

A COLOMBIAN SCHOOL HISTORY.

We know a good deal in this country about the school history as an agency for propagating opinion, inoculating children with notions which they are not likely to outgrow. Various sections have had difficulty with their text books, politics even creeping into the arithmetics, though one would suppose mathematics would be wholly free from political or sectional bias. Having had this experience, we are in a position to understand the purposes of Colombia in introducing a school history of the country which deals with the amputation of Panama in a manner as offensive as possible to the United States in the aggregate and individual Americans from Roosevelt down.

There are many of us who are not proud of the Panama episode and to whom it looks at least as much like an act of high-handed violence as the course of Italy in Tripoli, slightly aggravated by the fact that we had a treaty agreement with Colombia to protect her integrity and sovereignty. By an infinitely resourceful sense of humor President Roosevelt made this very treaty an excuse or pretext for not permitting Colombia to suppress a petty insurrection started by a dozen foreigners, among whom were several Americans.

However, what is done is done, both for us and for Colombia, which did not receive the ten millions we were offering for the canal concession, and there is no use in making faces. Colombia, however, has decided to secure what revenge she can by bringing up her children to hate us. The chapter of the school history regarding Panama is as violent as it can be and the children are compelled to learn it by heart. This is where the absurdity of the whole thing appears. We did an injustice to Colombia and that country, being unable to punish us for it, is inflicting lamentable punishment on her own children. If they are compelled to commit that chapter to memory they may hate their own government worse than they hate us.

The fact that the people of the state are to vote next Tuesday on the license question is called to attention by the distribution through the mails of printed slips setting forth the advantages of license and urging the citizens to vote "yes." There is no name attached to any of the slips, but that is not necessary; everybody knows they are not sent out by the temperance people. In the circulars are a number of statements which most people will be inclined to dispute, and many are not agreed that the conditions are "eminently satisfactory," particularly in Newport.

Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, the chief of the insurgent Republicans, is to start next week on what will be one of the most elaborate campaigns ever made for a Presidential nomination. He will make 10 "big" speeches and many platform talks in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Kansas and Oklahoma, returning to Washington just before Congress assembles. Still, he will hardly win the nomination over Taft.

The great naval review is over, and President Taft and Secretary Meyer are highly pleased with the results. The latter is anxious that the members of Congress may be sufficiently impressed with the showing which the fleet made to give him additional appropriations for ships and men and the further extension of the navy. The mobilization proved conclusively that the navy is well prepared for war or for hard every-day work.

A corner in wheat, which is said to control 60 per cent of the entire crop of the country, is reported to be centered in Chicago, extending to Minneapolis, Duluth, Buffalo and Baltimore. The government is investigating the report and may bring some of the operators before a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy in restraint of trade.

The cold weather came with a bang. Snow flurries are reported from the northern part of the state, and freezing temperature everywhere. This is quite unusual for the first week in November, but is nothing in comparison with the conditions in the West, several places in Indiana reporting 18 inches of snow.

New York was so interested in the naval review that Justice Davis adjourned a session of the supreme court and interrupted the trial of an important case that the officials and jurors might see the spectacle.

There are but four more days before election, counting today and Sunday, and there really is no excitement in Newport over the contest. Perhaps our people will wake up or be waked up in time to vote.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

As a result of Hallowe'en pranks many fodder stacks were torn down and turned over on Green End avenue. On Paradise avenue, the house door of Mr. Millard F. Smith being left accidentally open, a quantity of rotten eggs were thrown in. The Paradise seemed to be the only school molested. The plank walk, which was used with the gate to barricade the doors, was quite badly damaged and the pump put out of commission. The putting back of the flag-staff halyards will be an expensive operation, as the staff is fastened to the belfry.

Mr. Philip L. Eaton, master at St. George's School in Latin and English, will have charge of the Berkeley Boys' Club this winter, replacing Mr. Harold N. Arrowsmith. Two basket ball teams are being organized, and a program of entertainments will be announced.

Miss Sarah I. Chase of Chaseville left today for Providence, where she will make a two weeks' visit.

Everything not well protected was touched by frost Thursday night. The ground was frozen a quarter of an inch deep this morning and thin ice formed.

The first in the series of articles on "Christian Heroes," begun in the November Parish Leaflet of the Berkeley Memorial Chapel, is on "Origin of Alexandria" and is written by Miss Louise Diman, a sister of Rev. John B. Diman of St. George's School.

The monthly open meeting of the Paradise Club this week, held with Mrs. William Clarence Peckham on Prospect avenue, was largely attended. The arrangements were in the hands of a special committee, Mrs. Howard G. Peckham and Mrs. Robert W. Smith, Miss Ellen E. Smith and Mrs. Edward Peckham spoke at length on their trip to the West and in California, a somewhat similar account of which they gave recently before the Epworth League. Mrs. C. Peckham acted as hostess, serving light refreshments at the close of the program.

INCREASE IN CAPITALIZATION.

The output of new companies with $1,000,000 capital or over in the Eastern states in October, including the filing of certificates of increase in capital, amounted to $124,220,000. This compares with $77,004,000 in September and $93,695,000 in October a year ago. The grand total of all companies incorporated last month with a capital of $100,000 or over, including other states than those of the East aggregated $187,178,500, against $156,912,000 in September and $176,437,317 in October a year ago.

CINGALESE SUPERSTITION.

[Java Times.]

An old Cingalese woman, who lived in an ordinary native hut by herself, died and was buried. On the following day a large iguana (a species of lizard which attains great size) entered the compound of a gentleman living close by and attacked his poultry. Hearing the noise and commotion, he came out and on ascertaining the cause, took his gun and shot the iguana. No sooner had he done this than there arose a great uproar from the relatives of the old woman, who declared that he had killed her, because her spirit had passed into the lizard, in proof of which they pointed triumphantly to the fact that it had never been seen in the vicinity and only appeared after her death. Rupees finally appeased the outraged feelings of the old woman's descendants.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Plea for the Appointment of a City Plan Commission for Providence.

Work of Woman's Auxiliary to the Episcopal Board of Missions—School of Design Awards.

Huger Elliott, director of the Rhode Island School of Design, delivered an urgent plea for the appointment of a city plan commission for Providence, in order to secure a comprehensive scheme to provide for future development, in an address at the City Planning exhibition in Providence Thursday. The lecture was the first in a series of three on the needs of Providence, and the speaker cited various instances in which improvements are not only desirable but will soon become imperative necessities. He spoke for the adoption of a plan which would grasp the municipality's problem with a view to the making of the city a better, more convenient and more sightly place for future generations. Incidentally Mr. Elliott told of the world-wide nature of the city planning movement, what has been and is being accomplished in many other American cities, and declared that Providence must, if she means to keep abreast of the times, make provision for future needs. Mr. Elliott spoke of the especial need of crystallizing the various ideas set forth for the improvement of Providence. Many streets must be cut through or widened, he said, and the main approaches from the civic centre to the residential and suburban districts improved heroically.

Miss E. C. McVickar was unanimously re-elected president of the Rhode Island branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Episcopal Board of Missions at the annual meeting Thursday in Providence. Reports were submitted showing that the Auxiliary spent $10,017.36 during the year and that the apportionment for the Rhode Island dioceses for 1912 was $18,000. It was announced that the Auxiliary had decided to assume one tenth of this. At the public meeting Bishop James DeWolf Perry, Jr., presided and addresses were delivered on missionary work in Alaska, Japan and South Dakota. The speakers were Rev. T. St. George Tucker of Japan, Rev. Edward T. Newton of Valdez, Alaska, and Bishop F. S. Johnson, who is at present missionary bishop in charge of the work in South Dakota, but who has recently accepted a call to the bishopric of Missouri. George Gordon King, treasurer of the board of missions, when called upon for an address, said there are 12,000 Indians in California who need missionary work, but the board had a deficit of $170,000, which made it impossible to take up this work. He asked that all the dioceses take up their apportionments.

The bronze medals and scholarship offered by the New England Manufacturing Jewelers' and Silversmiths' Association, to be awarded for excellence of work in various branches in the jewelry and silversmith department of the Rhode Island School of Design, were awarded Thursday evening by the committee of awards from that association. The winners were as follows: For excellence in silverware, James W. Jennings; in chasing, Wilfred Perry; in hub cutting, Arthur Burnier; jewelry-making, Frederick C. Rayner; jewelry designing, Giustino Sebastianelli; scholarship for the greatest progress in the department during the year, Hilton O. Hughes. Similar awards are to be made by the association every year. These awards are upon the work done at the last year of the school, but at that time the medals had not been struck and it was not until this week that the committee of the association received them. The announcements of the winners were made in connection with the exercises at the close of the school year in May, and the formal presentation of the medals was made by the committee, at the request of Mr. Rose, who is in charge of the department.

The success of the experiment of extension courses on engineering subjects, tried at Brown University for the first time last year, has prompted the faculty to offer another course of this character this year, to be a little more theoretical but still closely related to many practical problems which are likely to arise in the practice of the civil, mechanical, electrical and architectural engineer. Last year's courses were on heat and heat engines by Professor Kenerson of the department of mechanical engineering and on electrical engineering by Professor Watson of that department. Should this year's course prove profitable and meet with sufficient demand a second course dealing with the strength of materials and with hydraulic engineering may be afforded. If the public desires, it may be possible for the departments of engineering to offer a series of courses so related and so arranged as to make it possible for those interested in extension work to cover in a reasonably thorough manner the more important subjects now assigned in the university curricula leading to the engineering degrees.

John O. Kettell, for many years supervisor of roads and a well known business man of North Kingstown, died Wednesday after an illness extending over a period of more than two years. During the time that he had been supervisor of roads, Mr. Kettel had charge of the construction of several sections of state road in the South County. He also conducted a business of dealing in telegraph poles, ties, doing teaming and selling and buying horses. Several years ago he was deeply interested in horse racing and had entries at meets in various parts of the state. Mr. Kettell was born in Lippitt, January 16, 1856, the son of William O. and Tabitha Kettell. In 1889 he and his family moved to North Kingstown and since that time he had been prominently identified with the town's affairs. In 1891 he joined the Wickford Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Resolutions of Protest.

Newport Council, No. 256, Knights of Columbus, at a regular meeting held on the second day of November, Nineteen Hundred and Eleven, "Ida Lewis, the Heroine of Lime Rock" written by George D. Brewerton in 1869, now being reprinted in the Newport Herald, was duly considered and as a result the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

RESOLVED, that the language of Mr. Brewerton, in describing the prayer of the rescued party referred to in the issue of said Newport Herald of October 31st, 1911, be condemned as unscholarly, unwarranted and used in a spirit of ridicule of a prayer used by the ablest minds in ancient and modern times.

RESOLVED, that the language used in said article wherein the author attempted to belittle the skill, charity and courage of the rescued party in particular, and of the Irish race in general, was also unwarranted, without foundation, and showed a lack of familiarity with history which shows that the race has furnished thousands of able scholars, world renowned examples of charity, gallant soldiers, as witness every battlefield of our Revolutionary War, our Civil War and the Spanish-American War, and wherever Irish men are in martial combat. This race has furnished many a Field Marshal, perhaps unknown to Brewerton.

RESOLVED, that the language in reference to the drunken soldiers was also unwarranted, and showed a lack of respect for the uniform of the American Army; and be it further

RESOLVED, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Council, and published in the local papers.

Respectfully,

W. H. TOBIN,
Grand Knight.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair, continued cold, tonight and Saturday; moderate, westerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

During the past 24 hours there have been snow flurries in the lower Lake region, New England, the Maritime provinces and also in the lower Missouri valley. It is raining on the Florida peninsula on the western Gulf coast. Fair weather prevails this morning in all northern portions of the country and in the middle states. The high pressure area that was central Thursday morning in the Missouri valley has continued its southeastward course, and is now central at Louisville, Ky. The barometer is generally above the normal in all sections of the country and there is no decided depression apparent. The temperature is somewhat lower in all Atlantic coast districts and considerably lower in the Gulf states. In the central valleys, western and northwestern sections, it has become slightly warmer because of the prevailing southerly winds in the rear of the area of high pressure. The lowest temperature reported is at Williston, N. D., 12 degrees, while in New England the lowest is 22 degrees at Greenville Maine, with a minimum during last night of 18 degrees. In New York at 8 a. m. it was 32, Washington 32, Jacksonville 45, Chicago 26, St. Paul 20, Des Moines 38, Kansas City 28, Denver 30, San Francisco 54 and Portland, Oregon, 44.

SHIPS ALREADY HERE.

Change in Plans Brings Them to Newport Earlier Than Expected.

First and Second Divisions, Seven in All, at Anchor in the Harbor.

The battleships of the First squadron, the First and Second divisions, of the Atlantic fleet, arrived here shortly after 2 o'clock from the mobilization and review at New York. It had been expected that Admiral Osterhaus, commanding the fleet, would engage in maneuvres on the run from New York and that they would have be here late Saturday afternoon or early Sunday morning, but a change in the plans was made and the ships came along leisurely.

The vessels entered the harbor in column formation, the Connecticut, flagship of the First division, leading, followed by the Michigan and North Dakota. Then came the Louisiana, flagship of Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, commanding the Second division, and the Vermont, South Carolina and New Hampshire.

The first division anchored back of the Torpedo Station, the Connecticut nearest the Breakwater, the Second near the Jamestown shore, the Louisiana near Rose Island.

The berthing of the ships was quite different from the last time a number of the big fellows came together, a little more than a year ago. There were no masses of people gathered on the shores or scores of boats floating about the bay. The vessels were delayed in reaching their positions by a line of barges which dogged along and cut the big fighters completely out of their anchorages until it had passed. Within a half hour from the time the Connecticut passed Permanent wharf her launch with the mail messengers had landed at the Government Landing and launches from the other ships were following closely. There was not a salute from any of the ships.

The ships are expected to remain here about two weeks, engaging in practice outside and in the bay, and at the end of that time will leave for Norfolk, exchanging station with the Third and Fourth divisions, the latter coming to Newport and the First and Second going south. Early in December the four divisions will rendezvous off the Virginia coast and start for Guantanamo, Cuba, for the winter drills.

At the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association arrangements were hurriedly made today to be prepared to provide sleeping accommodations for as large a number of the liberty parties as possible. It was remarked by one of the secretaries as something to be thankful for that by the time the Second squadron comes to Newport the new building will be open and there will be no more need of having cots in the aisles, hallways, etc.

Captain Albert Gleaves, who is commanding the North Dakota, will take over the command of the Narragansett Bay naval district later in the month.

ANNOYING WOMEN.

Colored Man Fined for Assault and a Portuguese for a Vain Attempt at Hugging.

There was a variety to the news incident to the police station session of the district court this morning.

To begin with, there was some things not interesting—one "plain drunk," who had not the wherewithal to pay a fine and went to jail; a woman charged with lewdness, who was fined on probation, and a man brought in for sleeping out. He was found this morning quietly sleeping on top of a pile of manure outside a barn which has frequently been entered by woozy sleepers. He was not asking for any steam heat or even a stove. He was placed on probation. He had been out of jail only since Monday last.

There were some other cases. Wednesday night two school teachers were insulted while on Broadway, near Malbone road. Thursday on Ann street a woman was assaulted by a man, who knocked her pocketbook from her hand and followed her. The police arrested Jeffry Demby, a colored man, who seemed to meet the descriptions given, and he was identified in both cases. He pleaded guilty to the assault charge, was fined $10 and costs, and not having the cash went up the river to work it out.

Thursday night a Portuguese named Innocente Santos threw his arms about a woman who was passing along Warner street; she saw him coming and dodged, but he was able to catch her by the hand. He took an inauspicious moment to show his hugging qualities, for two policemen saw what he did and he was hugged himself. He offered one of the officers $4 to let him go, but he landed at the police station and this morning he agreed that what was said was correct. They had the evidence and he was fined $10 and costs, $13.60, which he paid. It was an expensive hug, and he did not have the hug, except the one the policeman gave him.

The district court's regular session was devoted to hearing a case in which Antonio Santos was charged with threatening his wife, with both a pistol and a stiletto, she said. Under cross-examination the wife failed to stick to her first story and furnished testimony considerably at variance with testimony in direct. The plaintiff and some of the other witnesses could not speak English. Manuel Vargas, acting as interpreter. Mary Souza, stepdaughter of Santos, was the principal witness against him. M. A. Sullivan appeared for the plaintiff and Frank E. Nolan for defendant. The witnesses were numerous and the case was taken up again after the recess.

"ADAM AND EVE AND THE BABY."

The lecture to be given to men Sunday afternoon is adapted to introduce the course of six addresses on various phases of "The American Home" which is presented by the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Clinton N. Howard, who will speak on "Adam and Eve and the Baby," is pronounced a witty, vivacious and sensible talker. He is an encyclopedia of useful information, and usually calls a spade a spade but without giving offense.

Members of trades unions, secret orders, social and religious workers, married men who are either fathers or wish they were, are among those likely to be interested in this course of addresses.

THE DAY OF JUDGMENT.

W. Alfred H. Wells, V. D. M., who comes to Newport Sunday to speak on the subject of "The Day of Judgment," is a Bible student well versed in the Scriptures and expects to be able to make clear to his hearers just what is implied in the words of his theme, and to reconcile many hitherto perplexing and apparently contradictory texts of Scripture.

SUCCEEDS IN DIFFICULT FIELD.

Mr. Milne's Presentation of "The Piper" Demonstrates Anew His Dramatic Quality.

In his reading of "The Piper" at the Young Men's Christian Association Thursday evening Mr. Joseph S. Milne gained many new admirers, while those who have known well his dramatic ability as a reader and impersonator were in no wise disappointed by his appearance in a new and difficult field. The recital was under the auspices of Company M, Women's Auxiliary, and drew an audience which comfortably filled the hall.

The story itself is Josephine Preston Peabody's conception of Browning's Pied Piper of Hamelin, in which is maintained the original setting, but treated from a more modern standpoint. To those who have read the author's version of the story the reading must have held keen interest; others not familiar with it doubtless had the desire to do so after hearing Mr. Milne.

The Piper is the central figure and the reader naturally made the most of this character. As in the original story, when the burgomasters refuse him the thousand guilders he pipes the children away, as he did the rats before them. In the new version the story ends by the piper's return of the children through the love and determination to protect a beautiful young girl.

Mr. Milne's mastery of the difficult lines and his impersonation of the eccentric characters was worthy of high praise. There was never any lagging, the reader having the power of engaging the undivided interest of the audience. His first appearance upon the rise of the curtain had a magnetic effect. When the hall was suddenly illuminated from total darkness, the first to speak was Anselm the priest, standing in the market place of Hamelin, mixing with the townspeople in discussing the miraculous feat of the Piper in piping the mice away, and giving expression to their relief and thankfulness.

The reader succeeds gradually in developing the interest of the audience so that when he reaches the last scene they wait in anxious expectation to learn how the situation will end. Here it is that the Piper is captured by the citizens of Hamelin and told that he has caused a mother to be at the point of death by piping her son away. He declares that the boy shall be "piped" back. He plays and the parents presently behold their children returning, dancing and singing after the fashion in which they departed.

Mr Milne was capably assisted by Mr. Victor Baxter in the selection and rendering of the organ accompaniment and by Mrs. Baxter, Louis R. Chase and F. B. Lawton, soloists.

MALBONE LODGE VISITED.

Malbone Lodge, New England Order of Protection, received a visit Thursday evening from Grand Warden William T. Wilson and other officers of the Grand Lodge of Rhode Island. After the formal business addresses were in order from the visitors. Past Grand Warden Charles S. Goddard and Past Warden Dudley E. Campbell, and a New England supper was served. The visiting officers in addition to Grand Warden Wilson were Grand Secretary R. W. Syddall, Deputy Grand Warden Benjamin G. Stone, Grand Chaplain David R. Simmons, Grand Guardian Fannie M. Ward and Grand Sentinel William H. Blake.

RALLY AT JAMESTOWN.

Republicans Advance Reasons for Support of Their State Ticket.

Percy W. Gardiner and Congressman Utter Address a Large Audience.

A Republican rally was held Thursday evening in the Gardner House hall, Jamestown, the room being filled and a number of women being in the audience. Governor Pothier could not be present, and his absence was explained by Senator Clarke, who introduced the speakers of the evening with brief remarks.

The first was Mr. Percy W. Gardiner, president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Providence. He prefaced his remarks with a few happy anecdotes and then referred to the proposed tax legislation of the Republican party, stating that if enacted the state tax of the towns and cities will be reduced one half, or from the present rate of 15 cents on $1,000 to 9 cents. He also referred to the nominees on the Republican ticket for the coming election, every one of whom is worthy of the support of the voters.

Mr. David J. White, reading clerk of the house, was the next speaker, confining his remarks almost entirely to statistics, showing that the little state of Rhode Island has in the saving banks within its borders more than 12 Southern states combined, and also that in other ways the prosperity of the state under an almost uninterrupted Republican rule is phenomenal.

Then Congressman George H. Utter was introduced and after referring to his last visit to the Island to speak for the Republican party, 18 years ago, took up some of the statements of Mr. White, showing how this section is benefited by the protective tariff, and how the growth and prosperity of the state and its neighbors helps the whole country.

Referring to the recent Democratic rally in this town, he showed how easy it was to make ante-election promises when there is little prospects of being called upon to fulfill them. The Republican party has not always fulfilled such promises and he was offering no excuses, but in the present campaign no promises are being made, as none are necessary with a ticket like that of the Republicans.

In regard to the veto power as used by Governor Pothier, he said the governor had done what he thought was right and to do it required courage. Who could ask more of a man or office holder than to do his duty as he saw it?

Speaking of the attorney general's office and the allegations brought by the opposing party against the present office holder, he said, Mr. Greenough had done his duty, he knew from personal knowledge, and any one who stated differently lied—and Roosevelt said that was a short hard word.

The speaker referred to the service of General Treasurer Read, and after a personal anecdote regarding his ability and conduct while in office, said the posters of the opposite party, asking for a change and a business administration, are the worst piece of political advertising he ever saw. Could any one possibly handle that office in a more business-like way than has Mr. Read for 12 years?

In referring to his duties as Congressman, he complimented ex-Congressman Sheffield of Newport, stating that Mr. Sheffield would be in Congress again from this district.

Mr. Utter spoke a length on the tariff, holding the close attention of the audience. His remarks showed his mastery of the subject, and his account of the recent attempted revision by the Democrats and their excuses for the various schedule was received with applause.

Congressman Utter was obliged to cut short his remarks to catch the ferry to Newport, the Benevertall making a special trip to take a party of about 50 to attend the Republican supper in this city.

Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL TEAMS.

The players who will make up the teams in the basket ball league of the high school division at the Young Men's Christian Association were selected Thursday evening, as follows:

Blue—Olivea, captain; Tollefson, Dennis, Reavey, Berry.

Red—Hoglolt, captain; Puddington, Sullivan, Coggeshall, Williamson.

Orange—Tom Wylie, captain; Titus, Scott, Thompson, Holloway.

White—Peterson, captain; Greason, Leonard, Dring, Jennings.

The schedule will start Wednesday.

THE COLONIALS NEW BILL.

The new bill opened to crowded houses at the Colonial Thursday. The feature act is presented by Fred W. Peters, a comedy entitled "His Lucky Day." Mr. Peters is supported by a company of four artists well suited to the parts assigned them; the comedy is bright and sparkling and keeps the audience in laughter through the entire act, at the close of which the entire company was obliged to respond to curtain calls. Green and Parker, singing and talking comedians, have an act different from anything presented on the local stage. Their songs are new and their dialogue, practically all new, is put on in a way easily caught by the audience, earning them hearty applause. The Carmen Sisters manipulate the banjo in an artistic manner, playing popular and classic selections to the enjoyment of the audiences, who showed their appreciation by demanding several encores.

Gordon and Perrita, who are giving an exhibition of wrestling at the evening performance, proved an interesting addition to the regular program. Their work was closely watched, and as the different holds were shown they were called out by the announcer, so that the uninitiated are able to distinguish between the half-Nelson, scissors, toe hold, etc. A full program of the latest pictures is shown in conjunction with the vaudeville, featuring the latest Biograph subject, entitled "Love in The Hills."

Coming attractions are The Bramlings, eccentric European novelty musicians; Mlle. Fregolia, sensational protean artist, and Plotti, character comedian.

APPLICATIONS FOR LIQUOR LICENSES.

The Licence Commission held a meeting Thursday evening. It was the regular monthly session and a hurry call had been sent out for those who desired liquor licenses for next year to have their applications with their bonds ready. In the time given, the bond men say they could not supply the bonds. However, there were about 60 applications, old and new, club, retail and wholesale. The commissioners will later advertise the applications and then will come the granting or refusing to grant.

In a closely contested football game this morning the North Ends defeated the Island Juniors by the score of 11-10. MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED.

Proprietors of Triangle Waist Factory to Plead on Seven Indictments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The proprietors of the Triangle Waist Factory, 146 of whose employes lost their lives in the memorable fire of March 25, will be called to plead today on seven indictments charging manslaughter in the first and second degrees. The court has announced that the trial will be hastened, because a great number of cases under the factory laws are on the docket and the result of the trial may have an important bearing upon future proceedings.

As a result of the campaign to protect the life of factory workers that followed the Triangle Waist Company disaster, actions have been begun to collect penalties in 116 factory cases, and those behind the movement announce that scores of factory owners are installing safety appliances to escape criminal prosecution.

Max Blanck and Isaac Harris, the proprietors of the Triangle company, were indicted several months ago and their pleadings have been postponed several times.

PLEADS FOR GREATER NAVY.

President Taft Sees Need of More Destroyers and Enormous High-Speed Cruisers.

President Taft, who Thursday reviewed, amid the roar of cannon in salute which lasted for hours the greatest naval force ever assembled in the history of the country, at the conclusion of the impressive ceremony, and while the last of the vast column of 99 ships of war was plowing out to sea, issued the following plea for a greater navy:

"Those who saw the fighting fleet which was assembled in New York harbor today could not fail to be struck with its preparedness and with its high military efficiency, and must have been proud of its personnel. The demonstration has had an educational value in arousing patriotism, in increasing the general knowledge of and interest in the navy, in illustrating the ability to mobilize on short notice and in showing the skill of the officers who turned the whole fleet in the narrow river and sent it to sea at the rate of 14 knots per hour.

"The equipment of the fact is excellent except as to the number of destroyers and cruisers and colliers in proportion to the whole number. We had, in the fleet today 22 destroyers, and to meet the full requirements there should have been approximately 100 destroyers, or an average of four to each battleship. It is true that there has been a marked improvement in the type of colliers and fast cruisers in our navy but it is also true that we have not a sufficient number.

"In addition to building great battleships other nations are building enormous high-speed cruisers—28 knots per hour—and it is believed that our navy should be similarly equipped. Unless a navy is maintained at the highest possible state of efficiency it is needless extravagance.

"I am more than ever convinced of the desirability of the conferring on the commanding officer of our fleet the title of admiral, or at least of vice admiral. At present the ranking officer is rear admiral, and this title is not commensurate with the importance of the fleet. At the review of the German fleet at Kiel a smaller number of ships was under the command of a full admiral, two squadrons were commanded y vice admirals and each of four divisions was commanded by a rear admiral."

MAN'S RIGHTS IN HIS WAGES.

Married men of Massachusetts are said to be much interested in a case which the Supreme Court of the United States has under consideration. Shorn of its legal technicalities, the question at issue is whether a man in Massachusetts may assign his future wages without his wife having a word to say about it. The case tests the constitutionality of the Massachusetts statute which provides that no such assignment shall be valid unless the written consent of the man's wife to the making of the assignment is attached to it.

REPUBLICAN POLICIES EMPHASIZED.

tion to their valuation. The amount will increase from year to year as the valuation increases, and if the revenue derived under the new system of taxation is as large as is estimated a still further reduction in the state tax will be the logical result in a very few years, and the cities and towns will realize still further financial gains.

Of this $60,000 the city of Newport will save over $45,000 a year, or one half of its state tax, which in 1910 was $90,200. This saving represents the revenue your city treasury receives from a tax on 2,750,000 of ratable property. The city of Newport, with this $45,000 a year, could undertake needed public improvements, or it could reduce the tax rate, and thereby distribute it among the people. This sum represents more than six per cent of the entire net debt of the city, and would more than pay the interest on this debt, which in 1910 was $778,600.

Let us glance at the other towns of Newport county and see what they can do with the money that will be turned into their treasuries.

Middletown, with a net debt of $21,392, will be able to pay off its debt at the rate of 14 per cent annually, with the $3,000 which it will save under the proposed tax law. At the low tax rate of 65 cents on each $100 this saving represents the income from nearly half a million dollars of town valuation.

Portsmouth will save nearly $3,400 annually. Its town debt in 1910 was $4,887.90—the lowest per capita debt of any town in the state. The sum it will realize from the reduction in the state tax will completely wipe out this town debt in a year and a half. With its 60-cent tax rate, the saving represents a taxable valuation of $560,000.

Jamestown will save annually $2,300, or over 10 per cent of its town debt, representing the tax at $1 a hundred on a valuation of $230,000.

Tiverton will realize $3,250 or over six per cent of its town debt annually, an amount equal to the tax on $325,000 at its present rate of $1.

Little Compton, with a tax rate of 70 cents, will save $1,400, equal to the revenue from $200,000 of its ratable property. The entire net debt of this town, which in 1910 was $2,978.21, can be paid in three years by what it saves in state taxes.

New Shoreham, which pays a state tax of only $1,643, will save over $800, which will be of as much benefit to the town as an increase of $50,000 to $60,000 in the valuation of the island.

Thus it is apparent that, in advocating a system of taxation which admits of such possibilities, the Republican party is doing something of actual and practical benefit to the municipalities of the state and to their citizens, individually and collectively.

The proposed bill has, as its fundamental principle, the equitable distribution of the tax burden, and it is possible to save this money to the towns and cities, not by imposing hardships or unjust burdens upon any class of citizens or any financial interests, but by so adjusting the law that it will be operative in directions where the

ITCHING ECZEMA ON HANDS

"Eczema began on the second joint of my thumb on my left hand. Several blisters came which soon broke and water oozed from them. Then the terrible itching began, and the eczema came in blotches on both hands. Sometimes the skin would seem to break and crack the appearance of being dry, and blood came out of them. It was very bad when I consulted a physician. I was treated for several months, but grew worse all the time. Then it came in my face. I suffered more than I could describe from the itching and burning. I became nearly a wreck physically. Then I consulted another physician and was treated by him for some time when he finally advised the Cuticura Remedies. I began improving after the first treatment and was cured after taking the Resolvent and using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. That was fifteen years ago, and I have never been troubled with it since. I owe my cure to the Cuticura Remedies and have just advised a lady friend who is suffering with eczema on her face and neck, to try the Cuticura Remedies." (Signed) Mrs. L. C. Warriner, Lincoln, Del., Dec. 15, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the skin and hair, will be sent, post-free, on application to "Cuticura," Dept. KK, Boston.

Workmen on the elevated structure saw the flames and shouted to passersby who sounded an alarm. The house was badly damaged.

NO RIGHT TO BIND THE CITY.

for a wrestling exhibition at the Hippodrome.

The following communication from the street commissioner was received:

"Honorable Board of Aldermen, City of Newport, R. I.

"Gentlemen: Regarding the proposed dumping place for city refuse at King Park, I will say that there is about 43,000 cubic feet of area, and in my estimation it will take about two and one half years to fill this space. It will cost about $5,000 to build a fence to hold the material. This would mean an average cost of about $2,000 per year. Grading and sowing grass seed would be an after consideration.

"The fence above mentioned will last only from six to eight years, on account of the sea worms; a retaining wall would then have to be built.

"This office does not approve of this plan.

"Respectfully submitted,
"J. K. Sullivan,
"Street Commissioner."

The Street Commissioner had a second communication, which was as follows:

"Honorable Board of Aldermen, City of Newport, R. I.

"Gentlemen: I herewith submit, for your approval, the following system for the disposal of all city refuse, to be carried to sea.

"I find that we can build a suitable house on the City wharf. We can have a slip of the west side, 34 feet wide and 320 feet long. This could be excavated to a depth of say 10 feet of water, which would accommodate two scow scows, one to be empty all the time, to take the place of the loaded one when at sea. This house could be absolutely dust-proof and built over the slip so that the scow could be put under same to load, the loading to be done when the carts arrive. The floor space would be large enough to turn the teams around and dump into the scow.

"This department has been making some inquiries in the method of this kind of disposal, and we find that in no case has there been any complaint of the refuse returning to the shores, other than a few wooden pie plates.

"We are of the opinion that we could get free of cost to the city, labor enough to take care of the scows by allowing them the privilege of picking the junk, etc., thereby saving the expense of two men at dumps, which amounts to $1,400 yearly.

"The cost of this system I could estimate, if you so desired. I would also say that with this method we will do away with the nuisance of smoke and paper blowing around, complaints of which are constantly received at this office.

"The city would not be under any obligations to any one owning land who may be willing to allow the city to use it for a dumping place, who may want to discontinue the use of same when most needed, which is our present situation.

"Another reason why this method should be adopted is because it will be only a short time before we will need a dumping place in the north side of the city.

"Respectfully submitted,
"J. K. Sullivan,
"Street Commissioner."

This was also received. Mayor Boyle suggested that the street commissioner was ready to furnish an estimate of the cost and it would be well to direct him to do so and submit the estimate to the Council for its consideration. The board so voted.

The board having held a hearing on the petition to have Lucas avenue declared a public highway, and there appearing to be no objection, the decree declaring Lucas avenue a public highway had been prepared by the city clerk and the board adopted it without discussion.

The following opinion was received from the city solicitor:

"The Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen, City of Newport, Newport, R. I.

"Gentlemen: In re lease between the city of Newport and the Easton's Beach Company.

At the time this lease was executed, December 31, 1901, the city charter of that time contained the following provision, 'And any new project or proposition involving any expenditure of money exceeding the sum of $3,000, in any one year, shall first be voted on and approved by a majority of the electors qualified to vote on any proposition to impose a tax or for the expenditure of money. * * * *'

"As though to emphasize the limitation of the City Council in the matter of expenditures for Easton's Beach there was passed by the General Assembly on May 2, 1884, an act entitled: 'An act to enable the city of Newport to improve lands at Easton's Beach.' The purport of this act was to specifically limit the right of the City Council to expend not more than $3,000 in any one fiscal year without submitting the proposition to and receiving the approval of a majority of the electors.

"In view of the foregoing provisions, I am of the opinion that the right of the City Council acting at the time of the signing of this lease was a prescribed and limited right—the right to bind the city to a sum not exceeding $3,000. Persons dealing with municipal corporations in matters of a contractual nature are presumed to know the rights and limitations of such municipal corporations. Austin vs. Coggeshall, City Treasurer of Newport, 12 R. I., 329.

"Therefore, upon the abstract question as to whether or not the lease entered into on the thirty-first day of December, 1901, is a valid lease, and whether or not the City Council of that year had the right to enter into or execute in behalf of the city of Newport said lease, I am of the opinion that said lease is a valid and legal instrument and that said City Council did have the right to enter into and execute said lease; but, further, it is my opinion that it is a fair presumption to be taken from the law and the facts that the City Council of 1901 could not have contemplated the payment of more than $3,000 for the purchase of the buildings at the beach, having in mind the statutes hereinbefore recited and referred to.

"Respectfully submitted
"Jeremiah A. Sullivan,
"City Solicitor."

Mr. Mahoney said that as he understood the opinion, it was that the City Council which made the lease had no right or power to bind the city to pay more than $1,000 for the buildings. The city solicitor said that is how he interpreted the law.

Mr. Mahoney suggested that the board might appoint a committee to offer the Easton's Beach Company $3,000 for the property now on the beach and might authorize the city clerk to deed to the company, making the offer. Mayor Boyle did not approve of the plan. Mr. Mahoney said he did not wish to delay matters at all, but considered that some action should be taken. He suggested that, when the beach company offered 10 years ago to sell for $10,000, there seemed no reason for the present demand for more than $30,000 more.

He quoted the decision of the court in the case of Ecroyd vs. City Treasurer. The taxpayers had voted $135,000 for a new city hall, the bonds when sold brought a bonus of some $16,000 and the Council decided to use that $16,000 in the City Hall. An injunction was asked by some citizens, the case taking the above name. The city solicitor, Mr. Brown, claimed that the city hall was not a new project, since the taxpayers had voted on it. The court brushed that contention aside as preposterous and fallacious and requiring no consideration. So he held the court would rule on this Easton's Beach matter. It was a new project and not more than $3,000 could be spent on it. This lease was made by a retiring Council at the close of 1901. He urged that some action be taken, so that in case the city is sued there will be a record to show that the city has offered to buy the buildings.

Mayor Boyle said that, while he did not know much law, it seemed to him it was not the province of the board to make any offer for the buildings. It seems best to go on under the lease provisions, appoint an appraiser and do what the lease requires to be done. If the Council of 1901 had no right to bind the city to expend more than $3,000 on the beach, then this board by its action in appointing an appraiser could not bind the city; neither could the action of the appraisers. It seemed strange to think that neither the city solicitor of 1901 nor the counsel for the beach company saw this $3,000 limit when the lease was made. It showed remissness on the part of both, the city solicitor for allowing the city to enter into a contract which was wrong and the counsel for the beach company for allowing his client to make a contract which could not be supported in the courts. It seemed to him that the board, while safeguarding the interests of the city, should not fairly also to the beach company and he thought the appointment of an appraiser under the terms of the lease would not endanger the city's interests. It might be that the appraisal would not be more than $3,000.

Mr. Mahoney spoke on the matter of appraisers and the result of appraisers' actions binding the city. He said that in the case of Austin vs. City Treasurer, growing out of the Ocean House ball and entertainment to the British admiral in 1878, an injunction was asked by William Austin, for the entertainment. The court held that taxpayers, to prevent the city treasurer from paying $2,300, the bill for the the city neither danced nor dined, that the making of a contract with a municipality bound the maker to recognize the limits of the powers of the municipality, and the contractor made a contract at his own risk and subject to the limits of the municipality's authority. The innocent taxpayers had a right to protection, even though the bill had been contracted, and the court granted the injunction. So in this case the innocent taxpayers have a right to protection.

The city solicitor said the special act of the legislature limiting the city to an expenditure of not more than $3,000 at the beach did not contain the word "new," so it was evident that the city was limited thereby to an expenditure of not more than that sum in any year, no matter whether new or old. Mayor Boyle suggested that perhaps that referred to a municipal act such as improvements or building, and not to what was proposed, the taking over of buildings at an appraised valuation.

The city solicitor said he saw no objections to the action suggested by the mayor, provided the award when decided upon was not filed but was held pending legal proceedings. He thought the mayor's suggestion that under the law, neither the board nor the appraisers could bind the city for more than $3,000 a good one.

With this view of the matter it was decided to appoint an appraiser and first the board refused to accept the beach company's valuation on the buildings, $46,266. The lease in that contingency provided for the appointment of an appraiser. Mayor Boyle said that perhaps the appointment of a city official, such as the building inspector, might not be called the appointment of an impartial man, and suggested some leading builder who would know the value of the buildings. Alderman Kelly nominated John J. Kelly, who seemed to suit, and he was unanimously elected.

The board adjourned.

REPUBLICAN POLICIES EMPHASIZED.

present law is inoperative and yields either inadequate return or no return at all. It has not been seriously changed by those who have attempted intelligent criticism of this measure that it will work in any way to the disadvantage of any municipality in the state.

Following the governor's address came another original song "Our Governor," sung to the tune of "Alexander's Rag-time Band," and so well pleased was everybody with it that the chorus was repeated several times.

Congressman Utter.

Then came Congressman Utter, whose reception out-rivalled that given Governor Pothier. His popularity in Newport extends over a longer period than does that of Governor Pothier and the main difference is that, while both have been growing in favor, one has had the longer time to become known.

Congressman Utter began with a good word for ex-Congressman William Paine Sheffield, who he said had made a distinct mark among his associates in Congress, such as is rarely gained in one term, by any member. He hoped that in another Congress he (Mr. Utter) would have Mr. Sheffield as an associate.

He then spoke of Governor Pothier, who did not seek a re-nomination but was sought after by the Republican party, to be its candidate and who he expected would be re-elected to a fourth term, thus breaking the record for governors of Rhode Island from the beginning of the colony. The people of the state know a good thing when they see it and are going to stick to the present governor.

The Democrats are talking of the Republicans being insincere. The idea of Aram J. Pothier being considered insincere! It is perfectly ridiculous even to suggest that such a man is insincere, and the party which backs up such a man cannot be insincere.

He then spoke strongly in favor of biennial elections, which are for the line of good government. It is necessary, if we are to have a stable government, that the men put in office have at least two years in which to carry out their policies. Biennial elections are in accord with advanced ideas in state government. No state which has adopted them has ever gone back to annual elections.

Congressman Utter then discussed at length the tariff, stating that it is an issue in Rhode Island for the state election as much as in the Congressional and national elections. The Democrats, when they found themselves in power in Congress on the false issue of the high cost of living, immediately began to doctor the tariff, following closely free trade ideas. "The issue," the speaker said, "which faces the people is not a question of rates, but of fundamental principles, whether the American wage earner shall be stricken down or be allowed to live."

He then reviewed the action of the Democratic committee on ways and means in preparing its tariff bills, claiming that it received no information from those outside its membership except from an expert who favored free trade. He cited several instances of manufactures in Rhode Island which would be crowded out of business if the Democratic bills are passed. The low tariff placed on foreign goods in competition with the American manufacturer is being so small that it would be impossible to under-sell and the American manufactories must close and the American wage earners become idle. The tariff is an issue of the state campaign. The Democrats put approval of the Democratic tariff bills in their platform, the first plank, and thus made the tariff a paramount issue. The campaign speakers cannot take it out of the platform by ignoring it.

The Closing.

There was to have been another speaker, Mr. Percy W. Gardiner, president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Rhode Island, but owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that many were obliged to leave, he only expressed his pleasure at being present. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing again of the song, "Our Governor," and a selection by the orchestra.

During the evening campaign buttons, bearing a picture of Mr. R. L. Beeckman, the Republican candidate for senator, were distributed among the assemblage and are being worn today about the streets.

AN UNUSUAL SHOTGUN.

Of English Make, Seeing Service in Many Lands. Presented to Mr. Warden in South America.

Dr. F. R. Warden brought back from his recent expedition in South America, among other relics, a fine old shotgun of English make, a gift from a traveler who valued it greatly on account of associations. Those familiar with guns, to whom Dr. Warden has shown it agree that in point of durability and convenience, as well as reliability, it is the finest piece of gun mechanism they ever saw. The history attached to the weapon is interesting, being as follows:

An English gentleman had two sons who were inclined to travel in foreign lands, one an engineer and the other an officer in the army and a member of the Royal Geographical Society. He went to the noted gunmaker, W. Horton of Glasgow, and ordered "the building of two shotguns" at the astonishing price of 85 guineas (about $425) each, as appropriate gifts. These guns were taken across the island of Madagascar twice, across the continent of Africa and also in the 1908 Angola Bay expedition, when 500 miles of wagon road was cut through the African jungle. Gun No. 1439 crossed Mexico and went down the west Pacific coast of South America to Antofagasta, then by railroad to Aurora (near lake Titicaca), and thence in company of the English engineers who were locating railroad concessions at the sources of the various Bolivian rivers. In crossing the pampas one of the huge wooden wheels which was simply the cross section of a tree, ran over and broke the stock of the gun, so that it became useless and was kept only because of associations.

On the Mamore river this expedition met with an American party, forming pleasant associations and friendships, resulting in the gift of the gun and 100 shells to Dr. Warden of the American party as a token of friendship and a mark of appreciation of the courteous hospitality and of professional services received. Any American would have done as the doctor did—find a couple of pieces of copper plate or other metal, and fit and rivet these to sides and through the stock so as to hold the gun together. Many pieces of game fell to the prey of the gun—wild boars, pumas, monkeys, squirrels, ducks, turkeys, parrots and macaws, toucans and other creatures of the various countries in which it was carried.

The workmanship of the makers is shown by hand carving scroll work on the metal and by the intricate and close fitting mechanism of the locks, breechlocks and shell ejectors. When closed the breech fits close enough almost to hold water, though water will seep out in a quarter of an hour. It is a hammerless of the latest pattern and never fails to explode good shells. The left is a shapely choked barrel, fit for long shots and accurate aim. The right barrel is slightly choked and fit for wing shooting and closer range. Its long use in moist tropical countries has caused considerable pitting of the inside of the barrels. These are one and three-quarter inches shorter and the stock has an inch less drop than the average American gun. Inquiry revealed the fact that gun makers on this side wanted $65 to make a new stock. In camp, by river and lake; in jungle, forest and open plain; in mountain and valley, on steamer and by rail, on trail by wagon or mule or Indian or negro-carrier, it has been the constant and valued protector and means of pleasure to an Englishman and an American traveler, and now rests in a Newport home.

Soda crackers are extremely sensitive to moisture.

Before the advent of Uneeda Biscuit the only persons who ever tasted fresh, crisp soda crackers were the people in the bakeries.

Imagine their trip from bakery to your table; exposed to air and moisture—kept in grocers' boxes and finally in a paper bag on the shelf in your pantry. Could they be the same as they were the day they were baked?

Now that we have Uneeda Biscuit—we have perfectly baked soda crackers—perfectly kept.

No moisture can reach them—no contaminating influences can affect their flavor—their goodness is imprisoned only to be liberated by you for you when you open the package.

Always in the moisture proof package. Never sold in bulk. 5 cents a package.

NATIVE CITY AND ARSENAL CAPTURED.

night of November 1 as appalling. An enormous conflagration was sweeping over the city and fighting was in progress in several quarters between considerable bodies of rebels and loyalists. The imperial batteries were dropping explosive shells in the native quarter, while the rebels on the other side of the river had brought long-range guns into play from the Wu Chang forts and were firing with fair effect on the loyalist positions. The fighting was clearly visible from the European concessions and several stray shots dropped into the British concessions, but without doing serious damage.

The viceroy of Kwang Tung province at Canton had dispatched a gunboat to this city to transport an immense supply of ammunition, firearms and Maxims, which he has contracted for with foreign firms here.

DOWN BELOW FREEZING.

Lively Wind Brings Back Real Wintry Blasts and the Flowers Show the Effects.

It was the real thing in the way of cold Thursday night. The promise of the weather man was more than made good. It had been growing colder all day and it increased more rapidly as the night came on, being down to 35 at 6:30 and 33 at 7:30. The wind had blown cold and hard during the afternoon, so that people had an opportunity once more to feel the wintry blasts.

By 9 the mercury at The News office had fallen to 32, the freezing mark. It felt as though it were degrees below that, so Arctic-like was the feeling outdoors. Then the wind began to die out and the cold came colder more slowly, and by midnight the registering thermometer at the Water Works pumping station showed the lowest point, 30. This thermometer had gone down to 36 last Sunday morning.

This was freezing weather and the plants outdoors showed it. Ice an inch thick formed in places. Out on the island as low as 26 was reported. The dahlias took the final count for the season and the leaves are black this morning, but the red dahlias looked just as bright as ever.

The wind today is not so stiff and the tendency is upward, not downward, for the mercury. Still, there was a real frost, not one dependent on the wind.

There are still many flowers in bloom. The geraniums seem not to have minded the frost, pansies are in bloom at Dr. Easton's and Mrs. Gibbs's, and about town many flowers were looking as usual this morning. The city gardener tore up the beds of salvia on Liberty square today, but the flowers showed no signs of the frost.

AN UNEXPECTED VISIT.

Department Adjutant Spink Here to Inquire Into Spanish War Veteran Matters.

Department Adjutant Spink dropped in unexpectedly on Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, Thursday evening. He came to make inquiries at first hand regarding Junior Vice Department Commander Buenzle, who is absent from Rhode Island and has not applied for a furlough, and upon certain questions which have been raised in the department and have not been satisfactorily explained by correspondence. The official seemed to have been well supplied by information as a result of his visit.

While here he spoke of the election of Comrade Morris Simmons of New York as commander-in-chief a few weeks ago and of the plan which the new head had launched to secure a big attendance at the next national encampment, which will be held at Atlantic City. The plan is to form clubs for the trip and a start on this has already been made in Rhode Island. He reported also that up the river there is an active interest in uniforming, that all who attend the encampment may be in uniform.

STEAMER ARRIVED.

New York Nov. 3, Carolina from Havre.

PLANS ACCEPTED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

sembly and promulgated by the emperor.

6—The power of amending the constitution shall belong to Parliament.

7—The members of the upper house shall be elected by the people from among those particularly eligible.

8—Parliament shall elect and the emperor shall appoint the premier, who will recommend the other members of the cabinet, who shall also be appointed by the emperor. The imperial princes will be ineligible for the office of premier or members of the cabinet, or administrative heads of the provinces.

9—If the premier when impeached by Parliament does not dissolve Parliament he must resign. One cabinet shall not be allowed to dissolve Parliament more than once.

10—The emperor shall assume direct control of the army and navy, but when this power is used in connection with internal affairs the emperor must observe special conditions to be decided by Parliament.

11—Imperial decrees cannot be issued to replace the law except in the event of urgent necessity, in which case they may be issued in accordance with special conditions.

12—International treaties shall not be concluded without the consent of Parliament, but a treaty for the conclusion of peace or a declaration of war may be made by the emperor if Parliament is not sitting, the approval of Parliament to be obtained afterwards.

13—Ordinances in connection with the administration shall be settled by acts of Parliament.

14—In case the financial budget fails to receive the approval of Parliament the government may not act upon the budget of the previous year, nor may items of expenditure not provided for in the budget be appended thereto. The government shall not adopt extraordinary financial measures outside the budget.

15—Parliament shall fix the expenses of the imperial household and any increase or decrease therein.

16—Regulations in connection with the imperial family must not conflict with the constitution.

17—The two houses shall establish the machinery for the administration of the court.

18—The emperor shall promulgate the decisions of Parliament.

19—The National Assembly shall act upon articles 5, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 18 until the opening of Parliament.

Another development today, which may or may not prove of much importance, was the receipt by the throne of a memorial from Yuan Shi Kai, in which he refuses to accept the premiership. Whether this decision, which came by telegraph, is genuine or merely a display of modesty remains to be seen.

Custom demands several refusals upon the part of one who has been elevated or restored to high office. At the same time it is possible that Yuan recognizes that his power may be evanescent as when Parliament is in control it can choose whom it likes as the head of the government.

An edict was issued this afternoon which confirms the throne's acceptance of the principles of a constitution as drawn up by the National Assembly and promises that "We shall arrange a day to swear before our ancestors in the temple and to issue the constitution to the whole empire on yellow papers."

A committee of the assembly will be appointed to draw up the actual constitution. It will be assisted by representatives of the army and the work probably will occupy months, as the provincial assemblies will be consulted. The governor of Anking, assisted by troops from Nanking and two gunboats, quelled an outbreak at Anking today. The city is quiet tonight.

An official despatch from Hankow says that fierce hand-to-hand fighting is taking place in the streets. The imperialists are wholly out of hand of their officers and are attacking every one they meet.

The outcome of the proposed constitution is a matter of lively speculation in the foreign quarter. A study of the program shows it to be a demand upon the throne or Manchu ruling family. It refers wholly to the reduction and control of the dynastic powers and gives no idea of what the Parliament's intention is with respect to the duties of the Chinese subjects or the duties and responsibilities of the Parliament.

It is a revolutionary advance over the constitutional scheme promulgated by the throne in 1907, which was modeled after the constitution of Japan, and which was thought by conservative foreign friends of China to be an acceptable one.

PROTESTATION OF INNOCENCE.

Rev. Mr. Richeson's Letter of Resignation from His Church Published.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—The first authentic protestation of his innocence of the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, for which Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Cambridge, stands indicted, was made public today, when the text of the pastor's letter of resignation of his ministerial charge was given out. The letter, which was dated at the Charles Street jail November 1 and which is addressed to Charles F. Cummings, clerk of Immanuel Church, is as follows:

"My dear sir: I beg to herewith tender my resignation as pastor of Immanuel Church. Strong in the consciousness of my innocence and firmly persuaded that God in His own good time will lift this burden from me, I nevertheless feel that I should not permit the shadow throwp across my life to darken the religious welfare of my church and its people, whom I loved. I therefore deem it my duty to place the church in a position to select my successor. With my heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses shown me by each hand at of the members of my church, I am sincerely yours,

"Clarence V. T. Richeson."

The letter was not made public until after John L. Lee of Lynchburg, Va., one of Mr. Richeson's counsel, had returned to Virginia to attend to some court matters in that state.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 54¼, American Beet Sugar 58¾, American Cotton Oil 42, American Smelting and Refining 68 to 67½, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe ex div 106½, Baltimore & Ohio 98¾, Canadian Pacific 239½, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 109½, Erie 32¾, Great Northern Ore Ctfs 41¾, Missouri Pacific 42, National Lead 47¼, New York Central 106¾, Northern Pacific 118¾, Pennsylvania ex div. 122, Reading 142¾, Southern Pacific 112, Southern Railway 30¾, Union Pacific 166¾, United States steel 68¾, United States Steel preferred 109, Lehigh Valley 170.

Noon—Stocks continued their advance during the morning, following a period of weakness soon after the opening. The strength of the less active investment issues indicated that the demand had broadened, although speculative manipulation of a few of the favorite stocks was continued. Reading and American Smelting made particularly good gains, owing largely to professional tactics. Gains were generally extended during the second hour. Reading crossed 144. St. Paul improved over a point, despite its unfavorable exhibition of September earnings. There was an increased absorption of other recognized dividend paying railroad issues, especially New York Central, Pennsylvania, Atchison and Baltimore & Ohio. Various industrials shared in the morning improvement to a substantial degree, with Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel and some lower priced issues conspicuous. Bonds showed a moderate degree of firmness. Money on call steady at 2½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4½ @ 4¾ per cent. Exchanges $384,717,108; balances $20,921,420.

ON THE 1849 VOTING LIST.

Only 995 Names, But Many of Them Still to be Found Among the Electors of Today.

The Daily News has been shown by Representative Robert S. Franklin a list of the voters of Newport in 1849, 62 years ago. It is made up "of all persons qualified to vote in the town of Newport generally; to wit, of all persons entitled to vote under article second, section first, of the constitution, and of all persons entitled to vote by registry and payment of registry, and other taxes, or by the performance of military duty." There are 995 names, including those of many families still to be found on the voting lists. In several instances the full names of voters of 1849 are borne by those of 1911, who are descendants of the men of 62 years ago.

The largest number of voters of the same family name was 25 Shermans. There are 19 Lawtons and 19 Hazards, 15 Hammetts and 15 Peckhams, 14 Stevenses, 12 Smiths, 11 Browns, 11 Clarkes and 11 Barkers; 10 Burdicks, 10 Carrs, 10 Langleys and 10 Southwicks; 9 Anthonys, 9 Spooners and 9 Tilleys; 8 Crandalls, 8 Gardners, 8 Greenes, 8 Melvilles, 8 Weavers and 8 Wilburs, Wilbors or Wilbours; 7 Algers, 7 Babcocks, 7 Barbers, 7 Freeborns, 7 Mumfords, 7 Taylors, 7 Tews and 7 Wilsons; 6 Caswells, 6 Coggeshalls, 6 Cranstons, 6 Eastons, 6 Goulds, 6 Hammonds, 6 Lakes, 6 Peabodys, 6 Swans, 6 Thurstons and 6 Turners; 5 Allmans, 5 Chases, 5 Cornells, 5 Gladdings, 5 Irishes, 5 Kings, 5 Normans, 5 Potters, 5 Reads, 5 Stacys, 5 Stanhopes, 5 Townsends, 5 Wards and 5 Wilsons; 4 each of the family names of Allan, Briggs, Cozzens, DeBlois, Friend, Goddard, Heath, Holt, Lee, Lyon, Marsh, Newton, Oman, Record, Shaw, Spencer, Stevens, Sweet, Underwood, Watson, Weeden, and White, and three each of the family names of Barlow, Brownell, Franklin, Henderson, Howard, Hudson, Johnson, Nason, Perry, Sanford, Sayer, Seabury, Slocum, Stoddard, Tisdale, Tompkins, Topham and Young.

Several of these family names, once prominent in Newport, have entirely disappeared from the voting lists and from residence in the city, although their descendants, women bearing the same or another name, are still living here.

Of the 995 voters on the list of 1849 there are still living 13, all but one of whom are residents and still voters of Newport. They are as follows: Gorton Anderson, Thomas E. Ash, Jr., Moses Barlow, William Caswell, Jr., Henry D. DeBlois, Thomas Galvin, John R. Hammett, Ara Hildreth, Godfrey Moffitt, Amon Parmenter, John E. Seabury and Daniel Wetherell, all of whom are more than 83 years old.

THE RHODE ISLAND GREENING.

Legend Regarding Its Origin, Related by "Shepherd Tom" in the "Johnny-Cake Letters."

To the Editor of The Daily News:

As there seems to be some question concerning the origin of the Rhode Island Greening apple, I would quote from the "Johnny-Cake Letters" by "Shepherd Tom" Hazard as follows:

"On the north, contiguous to Vaucluse in Portsmouth, R. I., the residence of 'Shepherd Tom,' there lies the old Isaac Chase farm, which in the olden time was owned and occupied in the summer season by Mr. Bowler, a rich East India merchant of Newport. Mr. Bowler had a beautiful garden and took great delight in beautifying his grounds and hothouses with exotics from all parts of the world.

"On one occasion a Captain Green Chausan, of one of Mr. Bowler's East India ships, chanced to rescue from shipwreck a prince of the royal blood of Persia, whose father, in the fervor of his gratitude for saving and restoring to him his son, presented to the captain from his own garden, situated on the site of the ancient Garden of Eden, a young apple tree growing in a porcelain tub, which was declared to be one of the few direct lineal descendants of the tree of knowledge.

"On his arrival in Newport Captain Chausan, as in duty bound, presented the young tree to his employer, Mr. Bowler, who was delighted beyond measure with the precious gift, and thought to guard and protect it by placing it in a hothouse, some remains of which are yet to be seen, but was admonished in a dream, by an angel claiming to be Mother Eve, to do no such thing, as the climate of southern Rhode Island was, if anything, a little more favorable to its growth than that of southern Assyria, from whence it was removed. Mr. Bowler had such faith in the vision that he had the tree carefully removed from the tub or vase, with the earth attached, and transplanted into Rhode Island soil, where it grew and flourished beyond his most sanguine expectations, and finally developed into what has ever since been called the Rhode Island greening."

Governor Pothier Explains Benefits of Tax Legislation to Newport County.

Congressman Utter Shows That the Tariff is an Issue, at the Young Men's Club Dinner.

As has been the custom for the past few years, the annual dinner of the Young Men's Republican Club, held Thursday evening in Realty hall, was the occasion for the gathering of a large number of Republicans of Newport and the adjoining towns and the principal rally of the party in this vicinity. It was the eighth annual dinner of the club, an dit was conducted in much the same excellent style as its predecessors, the executive officers and executive committee of the organization working hard to make the affair a success and giving all a hearty greeting and a good time.

The principal speakers were Governor Pothier and Congressman Utter, both of whom are favorites with the Republicans of Newport and always give addresses worth listening to. The other speaker was Colonel Ambrose Kennedy of Woonsocket, a member of the governor's personal staff and a member of the legislature from that city. Colonel Edward A. Sherman, president of the club, presided and made a pleasing toastmaster. The Amphion orchestra furnished a program of popular music during the dinner and played the accompaniments for the original campaign songs which were sung by the entire gathering, led by a special chorus of members of the club.

The Guests and the Dinner.

The dinner was set for 7 o'clock, but it was fully half an hour later when all was ready. In the meantime the members of the club and their guests had assembled in the rooms on the second floor, the principal guests being received by the committee and on their arrival escorted to the larger hall above, and seated before most of the members were admitted. The hall was attractively decorated with flags and the tables with chrysanthemums in vases.

The main guest table occupied the stage, and here were seated Governor Pothier, Congressman Utter, ex-Congressman William Paine Sheffield, General Charles A. Wilson, Colonel Ambrose Kennedy, Percy W. Gardiner, president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Rhode Island; Senator John P. Sanborn, Representative Robert S. Franklin and Horace N. Hassard, ex-Mayor Frederick P. Garrettson, Postmaster Robert S. Burlingame, David J. White, reading clerk of the state senate, Candidates R. L. Beeckman, Max Levy and Arthur Power, on the Assembly ticket; Rev. William L. Essex, chaplain of the evening; President Edward A. Sherman, Vice President William R. Harvey and Treasurer Willard L. Pike of the Young Men's Republican Club.

There was also a second guest table running across the hall in front of the platform, at which were seated a number of prominent citizens of Newport, Middletown and Portsmouth. The other tables, five in number, ran the length of the hall and were filled before the end of the evening, a large party from Jamestown coming in late and occupying practically all the vacant chairs.

At each plate was a small American flag and as the governor and other prominent guests arrived the orchestra struck up "Hail to the Chief." The club and its guests, waving the flags, gave to Governor Pothier a hearty greeting, followed by three ringing cheers. Rev. William L. Essex, assistant at Trinity Church, asked the divine blessing and the club proceeded to the enjoyment of the following menu, which was served by Munchinger with a large corps of waiters.

Colonel Sherman.

During the dinner Congressman Utter, who had been detained, came in, accompanied by Mr. Percy W. Gardiner, and was received, as he always is by a Newport audience, with three rousing cheers, all standing until he had taken his seat.

When cigars had been lighted, President Sherman called the assemblage to order to start the speech-making. He made quite an extended introductory address, referring at the beginning to Senator Wetmore, who had always attended the club's dinner but was absent for the first time, on account of illness, which kept him at Panama, but who is now on the road to recovery. The mention of Senator Wetmore's name was the signal for cheers which were heartily given.

The president then spoke of the success of the young men's movement among the Republicans of Rhode Island, the satisfaction which the young men find in the adoption of their policies in the platform of the Republican party and the speech of General Charles A. Wilson, in favor of young men, which he gave when he was elected chairman of the state central committee. He announced that General Wilson had promised to come to Newport in January to speak at the annual meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club.

Mr. Sherman dwelt at length upon the tax bill now before the legislature, giving a clear and concise explanation of the provisions of that measure, with special reference to the proposed tax on corporation excess. During his speech he announced that Mr. Beeckman, the Republican candidate for senator, had said that, if elected, he will oppose any inheritance tax measure which may be presented, because he believes such a tax is against the wish of the people of Newport.

Colonel Kennedy of Woonsocket.

Colonel Ambrose Kennedy of Woonsocket was first introduced and spoke for 20 minutes on state issues, referring to the vetoes by Governor Pothier of the appropriation bills, that the state credit might be preserved, and the misrepresentations of the Democratic candidates and campaign orators. The Democrats say the Republicans are not sincere in their support of the issues in the platform, but the Republicans have done everything in the building up of the state and the Democrats have no reason to question their sincerity. The Republicans favor and will support the new tax legislation, they are in favor of biennial elections, an efficient anti-lobby law and other progressive measures. The Democratic arguments are specious and will not hold water.

Before the next speaker was introduced the toastmaster called for the singing of the song, "Rhode Island's Governor," set to the tune of "All Alone." The choir sang the words first and then repeated them, the audience joining and all coming in strong on the chorus, which seemed more familiar and was rendered with a full volume by all.

Governor Pothier.

Governor Pothier was then introduced and was greeted with the heartiest applause, the audience standing and giving three full cheers. He spoke first of the record of the Republican party and said it has a right to grow enthusiastic over its acts during the past three years. He said: "Neither the record of the administration nor the policies of the platform have been successfully assailed by the Democrats. The Republican platform is a strong combination of political and economics questions of vital and immediate concern the people."

He then spoke at length of the proposed tax legislation and its direct bearing upon the finances of this city and the towns of Newport county. One of the most important provisions, he said, reduces the state tax against cities and towns 50 per cent. This means that as soon as this bill becomes a law we shall begin to turn back to the people of Newport county some $50,000 annually, distributed among the cities and towns in proportion

NO RIGHT TO BIND THE CITY.

Solicitor Says Council of 1901 Could Not Direct Expenditure Exceeding $3000.

Street Commissioner to Present Estimate for Towing Garbage to Sea.

The Board of Aldermen held another important meeting Thursday evening, when the opinion of the city solicitor that the Council of 1901 had no right to bind the city to pay more than $3,000 for the buildings on the beach was received. The board was in doubt what to do in the premises. Mayor Boyle suggested that it did not wish to act precipitately or unnecessarily hinder any action which the Representative Council might decide to take at its coming meeting, yet it must look after the rights of the city. After a good deal of friendly talk it was finally decided to reject the price put on the beach improvements as submitted to the board, $47,265, and appoint an appraiser to estimate the value of the improvements, the idea being that the city would not be bound to pay more than $3,000, since the Council had no power to make a contract binding the city to more than that amount. John J. Kelly was appointed appraiser on the part of the city.

The street commissioner had a proposition to tow all ashes, paper, etc., to sea and said he was willing to make an estimate of the cost. He was directed to make such an estimate for submission to the Council in connection with this garbage disposal question.

Mayor Boyle presided and all but Alderman Shepley were present.

The usual weekly pay rolls were approved for the following amounts: Streets and highways, $2,556.27; police, $883.76; fire department, $500.08; city officers, $254.27; firemen in theatres, $36.

Two acceptances from the Newport & Fall River Street Railway Company of grants for conduits were received. Mayor Boyle said he had received a complaint against one of the grants made. He told the complainant that the board had laid over the petition for one week to allow any one who wished to oppose it, but no opposition had been made. This, however, did not satisfy the complainant.

A petition was received from Helen Bence, asking that $100 be accepted for the care of the William Swan burial lot in the Old cemetery. A resolution was passed authorizing the sinking fund commissioners to receive the money for the object stated.

A resolution was adopted directing the city auditors to audit the books of the various city officers for October 31.

Three appraisals of damages by dogs were ordered paid according to law—Henry V. Stanley $4, William Bluko $10 and James Cowles $10. With costs the total was $27. The mayor noted that there was a difference in the values: nine hens were worth $9 and 14 hens only $10. Mr. Albro explained that for an award not exceeding $10 only one appraiser is needed.

Henry G. Christian was appointed a special policeman and the appointment was confirmed.

Three wagon and three wagon drivers' licenses were granted.

Joe Gordon was granted a license
